BANDRA HISTORY

The name "Bandra" possibly originates from the Persian word for port, or "bandar".It is described by Duncan Forbes's A Dictionary, Hindustani and English'(1848) as "a city; an emporium; a port, harbor; a trading town to which numbers of foreign merchants resort".

In Konkani, bandar is a loanword from Parsi (Persian) meaning harbour or port.In Mahratti, Bandra is known as Vandre, which means 'port' and is possibly derived from the same Hindi-Urdu/ Persian word meaning the same.

Bandra became part of English territory with the signing of the Treaty of Surat in 1775, but was retroceded to the Marathas in 1779 during the First Anglo-Maratha War. In 1802, Bajirao II signed the Treaty of Bassein with the English, surrendering sovereignty and again ceding Bandra, and it remained under British control until 14 August 1947.

On 12 April 1867, the first railway service was inaugurated, with one train per day between Virar and Bombay, as part of the then private rail company, BB&CI which was the earlier form of Western Railway.

The first school founded in Bandra after Bombay passed on to the English was St Andrew's Paris School , started by Fr. Francisco de Melo in 1780 to teach catechism to the children of the parish. This later became St. Andrew's High School.[16] The school is located in Bandra West.

Q. Procedure to access About for Bandra

Step 1 :

Step 2:

Bandra also known as Vandre is a highly affluent coastal suburb located in Mumbai (Bombay) area of the Konkan division, Maharashtra, India. The suburb is located to the immediate north of River Mithi, which separates Bandra from Mumbai City district.It is the third-largest commercial hub in Maharashtra, after Bombay city district & Poona (Pune), primarily aided by the Bandra-Kurla Complex.

Originally,Bandra was a larger area, whence the present day Khar neighbourhood was also a part of it. Almost a century ago,it was considered too large a suburb to be served by one railway station. Therefore, the Khar Road railway station was established in 1924, to give the northern part of Bandra closer access to the Western Railway line. This eventually led to Khar being considered a separate suburb.But to this day, the two adjoined suburbs make up one homogenous zone. A number of the prominent residents of Bandra are celebrities or VIPs who are active in Bollywood cinema, Media, Cricket, Politics etc.

Bandra is split by the local railway-line into West Bandra (Postal Code 400050) and East Bandra (Postal Code 400051). The part of Bandra located on the western side of the railway line developed into a fashionable suburb by the middle of the 20th century. Film director Mehboob Khan established the Mehboob Studios here in 1954. Soon the area became a center for the Indian movie industry, Bollywood. A recording studio was set up in the 1970s.

The Bandra-Worli Sea Link bridge connects Bandra West with Worli, located in central Mumbai. Due to Bandra's central location, most parts of the city are easily accessible.

Q. Procedure to Access Transportation in Bandra

Step 1 :

Step 2:

TRANSPORT

Bandra is a railway station on the Western Line and Harbour Line of the Mumbai Suburban Railway network. It serves the Bandra suburban area and the commercial area of Bandra-Kurla Complex (BKC). Bandra Terminus is near to Bandra railway station and serves interstate traffic on the Western Railway.

All fast and slow commuter trains have a halt at this station. Bandra is also directly connected to Chhatrapati Shivaji Terminus through Harbour Line via Vadala Road. BEST buses are also available from Bandra Terminus bus stand or Bandra (West) bus stand ; both being very close to the railway station. Auto rickshaws are also available.

Mumbai Bandra Terminus (station code: BDTS) also known as Vandre Terminus (in Marathi) is a railway terminus in Bandra from where trains bound for Northern India and Western India are scheduled regularly. It was built in the 1990s to decongest the main Mumbai Central station. It is one of the five railway terminus within Greater Mumbai. The other four terminals are – Chhatrapati Shivaji Terminus, Mumbai Central, Lokmanya Tilak Terminus and Dadar. It is close to Bandra Kurla Complex, a commercially important part of Mumbai as well as Mumbai Airport.

The nearest airport to Bandra Terminus is Mumbai (BOM). Mumbai Suburban Railway operates a train from Vile Parle to Khar Road every 5 minutes. Tickets cost ₹6 - ₹10 and the journey takes 6 min.
